

DESCENANT OF CHANG

WUFEI

(BANU HAQIM ONLY)

Chang Wufei was a master assassin and an honorable one. He never took a contract that resulted in diablerie, as he saw the act as vile and despicable.

You care a sense of the same code of honor with you. As it was more a nurture as opposed to nature thing.

- Master Assassin: As a master assassin, you gain 5 dots of the Stealth Skill for free.
- Surprise Attack: You are skilled at attacking from Surprise. You receive a +3 bonus to your Physical test pools when attacking an opponent who is unaware of your presence. You only receive this bonus once per combat, as your first attack reveals your presence and ruins any further surprise.
- Awakening the Steel: You possess a melee weapon that has been given a magical name, as part of an enchantment by a superior of your clan. If you make a Rouse check and use a simple action to call the weapon's name, it appears in your hand. This occurs regardless of the weapon's original location. You must have room to hold the weapon when it appears in your hand; the weapon cannot appear inside of a solid object. If your weapon is broken or destroyed, it will reform (as good as new) when you activate this power. If this power is used to reform your weapon, it appears exactly as it was first forged. If the weapon was modified or coated with blood, those modifications are removed when the weapon is reformed.
