

DESCENDANT OF THE PREACHER (MALKAVIAN ONLY)

The Preacher, a Malkavian with a mind as intricate as a labyrinth and a gift for prophecy, was a beloved enigma within the city of Indianapolis. Despite his apparent madness, or perhaps because of it, he held a unique sway over the local Kindred. Many indulged him in his bizarre communion rituals, viewing him with a mixture of pity and curiosity. Little did they realize the profound effect his words would have on their own destinies. Though he never fully embraced faith in the traditional sense, The Preacher's prophetic insights and charismatic presence left an indelible mark on Indianapolis. His cryptic teachings and uncanny ability to peer into the future cast a veil of mystery over the Kindred society, shaping the paths of those who dared to listen to his mad sermons.

- Expanded Consciousness: You receive the discipline Presence instead of Obfuscate as an In-Clan Discipline. You have special insight into the universe, and your consciousness has expanded beyond the understanding of more limited minds. You gain a dot in any one of the 3 Mental attributes for free.
- Labyrinthine Mind: Your mind is a twisted nest of madness and disconnected ideas, and any character who attempts to non-consensually pull information out of your mind risks driving herself insane. Firstly, you receive a +3 bonus to your defense test pool when resisting Dominate, and other mind-affecting powers. Secondly, characters who attempt to pull information from your mind gain your Bane for one hour.
- The Madness Network: You may take the Loresheet "The Cobweb" as an additional Loresheet, but must still pay its costs.
